Help Center Ryanair continued its customer-first reboot today with the launch of an app that could spell the end of the paper boarding pass. of a smartphone? As of today, you can book, check-in for and board Ryanair flights without paper boarding passes. This morning, the airline launched a new app for iPhone and Android, which enables customers to browse, book, check in and board the airline using their phones. Don't have a smartphone? Then you're back to paper. You need to either check-in online and print your own boarding pass (as has been the case), or face a hefty €15 fee for a reprint at the airport. The app, which has actually been available available since last Friday, allows customers to: Log in with their 'My Ryanair' profileSearch Ryanair's 1,600 routesMake quicker flight bookingsChoose and book allocated seatsManage bookings and add baggagesCheck in and download mobile boarding passesView live flight information The app will "revolutionise the way people travel and interact with Ryanair," CEO Michael O'Leary said at the launch. "You can book a flight on the app in less than 100 seconds." Although the airline says the app allows passengers to book hotels and car hire, our tests found it actually redirects customers to ryanairhotels.com and ryanair.hertz.com on smartphone web browsers. Some Independent.ie readers have also expressed their disappointment with the fact that the app is not yet available to Blackberry users - unlike the Aer Lingus app, which was launched in 2011. The app is currently available in English, Italian and Spanish. With this App at your fingertips, Europe is at your feet.We're Ryanair, so of course you'll find the lowest fares in Europe on our app. But you'll also get handy extras like being able to check in while you're on the move, a mobile boarding pass delivered straight to your phone and a choice of in-flight extras in one quick click.So why are you still reading? Download it now and get flying! 2 Aug 2022 Version 3.136.0 We will now be displaying special announcements on your boarding pass and Day of Travel Assistant to help you to make the most out of your trip with Ryanair. I fly with Ryanair at least 6 times a year, I never pay for a seat or luggage as I have a house in Spain but also as a protest to Michael Ryan's extortionist business practices.On our last trip I was unable to check in on line despite uninstalling and reuploading app as directed by Ryanair's chatbot online. I ended up missing the online check in deadline and had to check in at the airport. I was made to pay the €55 fine for each of us as I hadn't any proof that I had tried to check in online. I then had to go to the ticket office to pay my €55 fine to be told the fine would be payable in GBP as we were in the UK. I then went back to check in to be told the flight had been overbooked and there was no seat for me. Eventually I was allocated a seat at the gate and got on the flight but by this time the start of my short break had been ruined by stress but also been £110 lighter in my bank.I will NOT be flying Ryanair again, the extra costs actually mean that the flight is more expensive than his competitors and also the cost to sanity and stress levels are not worth any monetary savings.Shame on you Michael Ryan, I hope all your wronged customers vote with their feet like I am doing. I have downloaded the application first time on iPhone. It is working pretty well however time out is very short to read through all the information and policies to agree with. If you properly read terms and conditions and you click agree usually application times out already. Picture of the food is 20 times bigger than icon of your boarding pass or check in icon.The most important information is hard to find and least important items are glorified and highlighted.The app works pretty well and smooth but many pages do not have cancel button. For example if I go to change my seat it's not clear that I will be charged £6 additional fee even if I already paid £20 to choose my seat. It will let me happily go to the area where I can change the seat. Only there I see it will cost me £6. And also there is no back or cancel button. I had to use the arrow in the left top corner to go to back home. I am 90% positive it is designed purposely like that to confuse people. And pay more money. I don't mind to pay for additional services for very cheap ticket although my £13 ticket cost me at the end £160 ->) but that's all good. But application should treat a human being professionally and with dignity and not treat me in patronising way. Not one for writing many reviews but after reading the negative ones posted I felt I had to write this. I've been flying with Ryanair every week for the past 5 years for my commute to work. Sometime more often when work takes me to other places. The airline is one of the most reliable airlines I've ever used. As for the App, the early versions had issues but this one is extremely reliable, easy to use to book flights, check in, add extras and have your boarding pass at hand. I've added my family to my profile settings (using the PC) so when we all go away on our hols it's very easy to do all the above for us all as it also stores their details. I even have a few colleagues added to make booking work flights easier. I also use other airline Apps (mention no names) and find this one by far the easiest. This App simply works in every way it's supposed to. A must App for everyone using Ryanair whether a commuter or an infrequent flyer. Learn More Developer Website App Support Privacy Policy We offer a free online check-in service for all Ryanair flights. You give us the necessary details up to 24h before departure, we check you in with Ryanair and get your boarding passes for you. So what's the difference from other airlines?Once we have your details, we'll always try to check you in as soon as Ryanair opens their online check-in. But in some rare cases, it might take longer. And as their online check-in closes only 2 hours before departure, we won't give up before that.Please use the PDF version of the original Ryanair boarding pass. You'll find it in your account — both on our web and in the app. We'd advise you to print it to avoid difficulties at the airport.We've stopped providing the mobile versions of Ryanair boarding passes to make sure you won't have any difficulties at the airport. We generate them for most airlines for your convenience, but Ryanair didn't like that we brand them with our own colors.Ryanair charges around €55 for airport check-in — per passenger.If you provided us with the details within our deadline (up to 24h before departure) and we failed to check you in, we'll naturally reimburse you the fee. Check how to apply for the refund in this article.They offer free online check-in, but you might not be able to access it on your own. We book the trips using virtual contact details, so you might not always have all the details you need to access your booking with Ryanair.If you need the reservation email or other details of your Ryanair booking, please contact our customer support.
